CELEBRATING NEAL PORTER BOOKS

When I think about Roaring Brook, many of the books that come to mind have a second imprint on the title page—that of Neal Porter Books: DOG AND BEAR, ACTION JACKSON, POLO, BAD KITTY, EMIL AND KARL…. These books are so much a part of who we are that it’s impossible to imagine an us without them.

Neal and I began working together when the company—not yet named—was just an exciting idea. Since then, Neal Porter Books have made a defining contribution. So this season we’re celebrating Neal and inviting you to get to know him.

Simon Boughton, Publisher

You’ve published such a wide variety of books. How do you pick ‘em?

Kind of selfishly. I pick projects that challenge and excite me. I’ve always loved words and language, but I’m also a frustrated artist. I can still remember the note from my elementary school art teacher on my report card: “Not one of my better students, but at least he tries...” Of course, working on picture books allows me to satisfy both of my passions.

You have published several ABC books at Roaring Brook, and have a couple of more signed up. Tell us about this alphabet thing...

I have a jones for typography and letterforms; I collect the latter; my apartment is littered with them. For me there’s nothing more beautiful than letters; think what you can make with them!

No, no, go deeper. What is it about the ABCs?

I see the alphabet book as a platform for exploring other things. An example of this is Laura Vaccaro Seeger’s THE HIDDEN ALPHABET: yes, it contains words that begin with each letter of the alphabet, but it’s also about the concept of negative space—the image completely changes once one lifts the die-cut flap. Another is Nick Bruel’s BAD KITTY, which takes the reader through the alphabet four times as it depicts the actions of one very petulant cat. Two others I published elsewhere: Robert Sabuda’s THE CHRISTMAS ALPHABET and David Pelletier’s THE GRAPHIC ALPHABET. I do worry that I’m getting stuck in a rut—and figured my last alphabet book would be THE ALPHABET OF ALPHABETS, which is about 26 written languages from Arabic to Zapotec and will be published in ’09. However, I’ve since signed up two more!

How about your interest in international publishing? Tell us about that.

I got that, first, from working with Margaret McElderry and then from my two years at Walker in the UK. I’m continually fascinated by why certain books from other cultures succeed brilliantly here, and others don’t.

Favorite book from abroad?

Talk about your history—in publishing at least.
Did you always know it was going to be children’s books?

Not at all. I graduated college with degrees in theater, history, and journalism. But I needed a job, and through a friend landed an assistant’s position in a college textbook department. It took me about three days to realize I disliked textbook publishing (too rigid) and about six months to get out. Two jobs later, I accepted a position in library marketing at Farrar, Straus without realizing that I’d be marketing children’s books! I’d like to think that my early years in marketing inform my publishing decisions today.

Biggest challenge?
Presenting at my first sales conference. I was completely terrified, tied to a script, and garbled everything. My knees were literally knocking against each other under the table. But once I threw away the script, I was fine, and really enjoyed it.

Easiest book ever?
Two come to mind: Laura Seeger’s DOG AND BEAR came together extra-ordinarily quickly. I’d really wanted her to do a narrative story book, and once we had the characters nailed, the stories simply flowed out of her. The second DOG AND BEAR book comes out this season, and we’ve started work on the third. The second just happened a couple of weeks ago. Ed Briant came to see me with an idea for a wordless picture book in graphic form with an ecological theme. I made some suggestions, and he sent me a PDF yesterday. He’d absolutely nailed it! It will come out in ’09 and is called IF YOU LIVED HERE YOU’D BE HOME NOW.

Favorite books from your own childhood and adolescence:
Off the top of my head: THE PHANTOM TOLLBOOTHS, NARNIA, and A WRINKLE IN TIME. I was given a copy of the latter the year it won the Newbery and must have read it 50 times. Years later I worked with Madeleine L’Engle at Farrar, Straus, and she kindly signed that copy, just below my childish scrawl.

What are you reading now?
HARRY POTTER. Isn’t everybody?

We know you love the theater. Over the years, what have been your most memorable theater experiences? One or two.

When I was in high school in Philadelphia, a friend and I took dates to New York to see the original production of Stephen Sondheim’s FOLLIES during the first week of its run. The dates were bored silly, but I was mesmerized. There’s a moment near the end when a character goes up on his lines intentionally, and I literally fell out of my seat. Brilliant, tragic, and beautiful. Sirs John Gielgud and Ralph Richardson in Harold Pinter’s NO MAN’S LAND.

QUICKIES:
Favorite color?
BLUE. DEFINITELY BLUE.

Favorite ice cream flavor?
A toss-up: pistachio and mocha chip.

Favorite kind of music?
Eclectic. Everything from Steve Reich to Broadway show tunes to Ravel to Susanne Vega.

Favorite TWO movies of all time?
Terry Gilliam’s BRAZIL; Bertolucci’s THE CONFORMIST.

WILL SHEILA SHARE?
Written and illustrated by ELIVIA SAVADIER

No, Sheila will not share.

SHEILA WON’T! BUT YOU WILL WANT TO SHARE this charmer with your favorite three, four, or five year old...

Curly-headed, round-bellied little Sheila, sweet in her overalls and t-shirt is not one for sharing, unless you want green beans. It takes a very loved and loving Nana who shares a hug and kiss to change Sheila’s ways. Utterly simple, completely disarming, and absolutely true.

As she did in NO HAIRCUT TODAY (“pitch perfect language ...and spiky drawings that blend funny and fond.”—The Washington Post) and TIME TO GET DRESSED (“captures the complex relationship between parent and child with both wacky humor and exquisite tenderness.”—Publishers Weekly, starred review), ELIVIA SAVADIER proves again that she is a master of economy, able to suggest more in a single line than others do in an entire book. Ms. Savadier lives in Massachusetts.

SILENT MUSIC
A STORY OF BAGHDAD

Written and illustrated by JAMES RUMFORD

WHEN BOMBS BEGIN TO FALL, Ali drowns out the sounds of war with a pen.

Like other children living in Baghdad, Ali loves soccer, music, and dancing, but most of all, he loves the ancient art of calligraphy. When bombs begin to fall on his city, Ali turns to his pen, writing sweeping and gliding words to the silent music that drowns out the war all around him. Gorgeously illustrated with collage, pencil, charcoal drawings and, of course, exquisite calligraphy, this timely and yet universal story not only celebrates art and history but also offers young children a way to understand all they see and hear on the news.

JAMES RUMFORD is the author of SEQUOYAH, which won a 2005 Sibert Honor and the Sugarman Award for American Biography. He lives in Honolulu, Hawaii.

TWENTY HEARTBEATS
By DENNIS HASELEY
Illustrated by ED YOUNG

A SIMPLE STORY LAYERED WITH MEANING; stunning layered artwork by an acknowledged master.

A wealthy Chinese man dreamed of a painting of his favorite horse. He sought out a man named Homan, known as a great painter of horses, and commissioned the portrait. Then he waited…and waited…and waited. As the years passed, his hair grew gray, and he grew furious. What was taking so long? Dennis Haseley’s simple story about the nature of art and the value of time is subtly amplified in stunning layered collages by Caldecott medalist Ed Young.

DENNIS HASELEY has written many books for children, including THE INVISIBLE MOOSE, A STORY FOR BEAR, and KITE FLIER. He lives in Brooklyn, New York.

ED YOUNG has illustrated more than eighty books for children, including the Caldecott winning LON PO PO and two Caldecott Honor Books: SEVEN BLIND MICE and THE EMPEROR AND THE KITE. Born in China, he now lives in Hastings-on-Hudson, New York.

LITTLE RED BIRD
Written and illustrated by NICK BRUEL

SOMETHING NEW AND UNEXPECTED—sweet and gentle—from the creator of BAD KITTY and POOR PUPPY.

Sweetly enchanting paintings and a gently rhyming text tell the tale of the little red bird who is quite content in her cage, but curious.... When the cage door is left open, she sees her chance and bravely hops out into the world. It's all so magnificent and thrilling for the little red bird—and for readers. In the end, Nick Bruel leaves both with a question. When the bird sees a familiar house and window and golden cage, will she return to it? Would you?

NICK BRUEL is the author and illustrator of BAD KITTY, POOR PUPPY, WHO IS MELVIN BUBBLE?, and BOING! He also illustrated his father’s story, BOB AND OTTO. He lives with his wife Carina in Tarrytown, New York.

HOGWOOD STEPS OUT
A GOOD, GOOD PIG STORY

By HOWARD MANSFIELD
Illustrated by BARRY MOSER

THE GOOD, GOOD PIG GETS HIS OWN PICTURE BOOK, PERFECT FOR YOUNG READERS.

Christopher Hogwood is definitely a pig with personality! He’s bright, curious, and has just a slight infatuation with rich, inviting mud. HOGWOOD STEPS OUT is Howard Mansfield’s fictionalized account of his own pig’s behavior on a fine spring day, a pig made famous in his wife Sy Montgomery’s book, THE GOOD GOOD PIG. Barry Moser’s luminescent paintings give Hogwood a personality that is all his own, allowing him to remind us to notice all the little wonderful things that surround us every day.

HOWARD MANSFIELD is a New Hampshire journalist who has written several books relating to New England. This is his first picture book.

BARRY MOSER is a National Book Award-winning artist and the illustrator of more than 200 books for adults and children. His works have been on display in such auspicious places as the British Museum, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the National Gallery of Art. He lives in Massachusetts.

photographs of collections and collectibles, this is a rare find—a keeper—to read and rediscover again and again.

JOHN FRANK is the author of several children’s books, including the award-winning THE TOUGHEST COWBOY and HOW TO CATCH A FISH, which Booklist praised as “resonating poetic vignettes that spawn a glinting, striking catch,” in a starred review. He lives in Redmond, Washington.

TRY THIS AT HOME. Poems to inspire young readers.

From Eileen Spinelli’s many goodbyes to summer at the shore, to Avis Harley’s catalog of ways to say hello across the globe, to a close look at the birds and animals outside Valiska Gregory’s window in winter, Georgia Heard has collected list poems from contemporary poets. Each list is gathered with a poet’s eye—carefully selected details beautifully presented—so that readers see the extraordinary in the ordinary. And so readers are encouraged to be writers. The simplicity of each poem and Georgia Heard’s introduction will inspire young poets to write their own.

THINGS TO DO IF YOU ARE A PENCIL

DINOSAUR TROUBLE

By DICK KING-SMITH

Illustrated by NICK BRUEL

SOMETIMES THE MOST UNLIKELY PAIRS MAKE THE BEST OF FRIENDS.

A hilarious prehistoric yarn for newly-independent readers from a master of children’s animal stories.

All pterodactyls know that flying dinosaurs are superior, and all apatosauruses know that any dinosaur with only two legs is surely second-class. Nosy, a pterodactyl, and Banty, an apatosaurus, become great friends even though their parents have forbidden them to play together. With Nosy’s fast flying and Banty’s smarts, the two take on the biggest predator on the Great Plain, and conquer their parents’ prejudices in one great adventure.

DICK KING-SMITH is the author of dozens of popular books for young readers, including BABE: THE GALLANT PIG, THE WATER HORSE, and last season’s HAIRY HEZEKIAH. He lives in the west of England.

“OH, NO,” SAID HEIDI. “IT’S THAT PIRATE AGAIN.” IT SURE IS. Newly-independent readers will welcome the pirate’s return.

Billy and Heidi were walking to school when they heard the strangest sound. An odd bus stopped beside them, the door clattered open, and out leaped the pirate. “Great claws of crab! Didn’t you get my letter? I told you I was coming.” “A letter?” said Billy. “When did you send it?” “Ten minutes ago,” said the pirate. “Not to worry—you’re here now. And so am I. Now HURRY up!” In the pirate’s second visit (a follow up to PIRATES EAT PORRIDGE, about which Kirkus Reviews said: “Fans of Lane Smith and Jon Scieszka will find lots to laugh at here.”), readers will happily jump in and join this outrageous bus tour.

CHRISTOPHER MORGAN has worked as a musician, a furniture maker, and a public servant. He lives in Melbourne, Australia.

NEIL CURTIS was an acclaimed, internationally exhibited artist. He illustrated many children’s books including CAT AND FISH, which won the 2004 Children’s Book Council of Australia’s Picture Book of the Year Award. Curtis died in 2006.

LITTLE VAMPIRE
Written and illustrated by JOANN SFAR

BEING DEAD CAN BE VERY LONELY.
Three stories—including a New York Times Bestseller.

Little Vampire is so lonely that he’s even willing to go to school if that’s what it takes to find friends. Unfortunately, school seems to be filled with children who are still alive! Little Vampire finds friendship with a boy named Michael, and they embark on adventures in the three stories in this collection. Included in this book are LITTLE VAMPIRE GOES TO SCHOOL (a New York Times Bestseller), LITTLE VAMPIRE DOES KUNG FU, and LITTLE VAMPIRE AND THE SOCIETY OF CANINE DEFENDERS (now published in the United States for the first time).

Insightful and inventive, Joann Sfar brings Little Vampire and Michael’s fantastical world to young readers in stories that both feed the imagination and resonate with emotional truth.

JOANN SFAR’S other works include the popular SARDINE IN OUTER SPACE series. He lives in Paris, France.

She’s a girl.
She’s a space pirate.
She’s Sardine—and she’s back!

With four Sardine books now published in the U.S., our favorite redhead space pirate (about whom Kirkus Reviews said: “Resistance is futile” in a starred review) has a growing number of young fans. Eleanor in Brooklyn told us, “I like it that they live on a spaceship.” Toby, age seven, wrote to say: “I like all the tricks Sardine thinks up.” And Sarah in California demanded, “More, please!”

Now appearing in her fifth collection of ten sidesplitting space adventures is Sardine—her stories told in engaging, scribbly artwork by Emmanuel Guibert.

EMMANUEL GUIBERT is one of the most talented comics creators in France today. As well as SARDINE IN OUTER SPACE, his works include ALAN’S WAR, an extraordinary biography of Alan Cope, an American WWII veteran, and THE PHOTOGRAPHER (with Didier Lefevre), a graphic novel about the war in Afghanistan.

ALIEN FEAST
By MICHAEL SIMMONS
Illustrated by GEORGE O’CONNOR

Things are getting better with the alien invasion. Sure it’s still not uncommon to come home and find your step-parents reduced to a pile of unsavory feet—but at least now that the disease is killing the aliens off, you have a relatively decent chance of making it through a day without getting mostly eaten. William knows this first-hand, having lost both his step-parents, but when the aliens kidnap his long-time crush Sophie’s scientist parents (and the government won’t help), it’s up to William, Sophie, and William’s bizarre Uncle Maynard to save them...and perhaps the rest of the world while they are at it. A hysterically twisted adventure that will knock your feet off!

MICHAEL SIMMONS is the author of four previous novels: POOL BOY, VANDAL (both Roaring Brook titles), FINDING LUBCHENKO, and THE RISE OF LUBCHENKO. He lives in New York, New York.

GEORGE O’CONNOR is the author and illustrator of this season’s UNCLE BIGFOOT (see page 9). He lives in Brooklyn, New York.

NOT EVERYONE SEES THE WORLD THROUGH THE SAME LENS. From the author of SOMETHING INVISIBLE comes this funny and poignant novel about the hues of friendship.

Spunky Olivia and eccentric Hal are an unlikely pair. While Hal suffers from a neurological condition called synesthesia that causes him to associate things with colors, Olivia tends to see the world in black and white. Still, these two are friends through thick and thin, through rose-colored days and blue days, even when Hal’s plan to get rid of his mother’s boyfriend backfires by driving his mother away. Olivia’s honest, funny and always-opinionated voice tells this story with colorful perception.

SIOBHÁN PARKINSON is the author of SOMETHING INVISIBLE and SECOND FIDDLE. She lives in Dublin, Ireland.

“BE STRONG, MY ABELA.” Orphaned by AIDS in Africa, Abela has a long journey ahead.

When Abela’s mother dies of AIDS in their African village, she is left to face the lions of the world. Lions like her Uncle Thomas, who has plans to sell her in Europe. Lions like his bitter white wife, whom he abandons along with Abela. Abela is forced to stay indoors in a sunless London apartment, cooking and cleaning, and hopelessly dreaming of her African homeland. Meanwhile, in a London suburb, Rosa is distraught when her mother tells her she wants to adopt a child. Rosa doesn’t want a sister or brother. Things are so good, why do they have to change?

Berlie Doherty tells parallel stories, each separate and compelling in their own right, but stories that eventually tangle together bringing a message of hope and what it means to be a family.

BERLIE DOHERTY, twice-winner of the Carnegie Medal, lives in England. Her books have sold over 700,000 copies and been translated into 21 languages.

DON’TCHA JUST HATE THE WAY YOU GET CAUGHT UP IN STUFF without really wanting to? Then it goes a bit further, and suddenly you’re one of those jerks you hate…

Rose wants nothing more than to get away. Last year she had it all: pre-law in the fall, a budding romance, her best friend, Zoe. Now Zoe will never forgive her, her family is crumbling, and the secret that’s been boiling up inside of her for a year is bubbling too close to the surface. All Rose needs to escape is an old van, her surfboard, the road, the ocean, and…mom?

When Rose’s mother jumps in the passenger seat right as Rose is about to set off, her trip takes an unexpected turn. A twisting plot that keeps you guessing, told from the viewpoint of a realistically flawed yet snarky main character, makes this a book that just can’t be put down.

MAUREEN MCCARTHY is one of Australia’s most popular young adult authors. Her novels have been short listed for numerous awards, and include the bestselling book QUEEN KAT, CARMEL AND ST. JUDE GET A LIFE, which was made into a highly successful Australian mini-series. This is her American debut.
NEWES FROM THE DEAD
By MARY HOOPER

WRONGED. HANGED. ALIVE? (AND TRUE!)
Anne can’t move a muscle, can’t open her eyes, can’t scream. She lies immobile in the darkness, unsure if she’s dead, terrified she’s buried alive, haunted by her final memory—of being hanged. A maidservant falsely accused of infanticide in 1650 England and sent to the scaffold, Anne Green is left with her racing thoughts, and her burning need to revisit the events—and the man—that led her to the gallows. Meanwhile, a shy 18-year-old medical student attends his first dissection, and notices something strange as the doctors prepare their tools…did her eyelids just flutter? Could this corpse be alive?

Beautifully written, impossible to put down, and meticulously researched, NEWES FROM THE DEAD is based on the true story of the real Anne Green, who survived a hanging to awake on the dissection table, creating a medical phenomenon in her day.

MARY HOOPER has written more than 60 books for children and young adults, earning high praise as well as the North East Book Award for her YA novel, MEGAN. She and her husband reside in a cottage in Oxfordshire, England, the same area Anne Green came from.

Textbooks are boring. It’s true. Just ask Steve Sheinkin. For years, he’s been researching and writing textbooks, stuffing the dull facts into them and leaving out the good bits. Lucky for us, he saved those good parts and brought them together to create narrative histories of the United States that are funny, fascinating, and thoroughly compelling.

EVERYTHING YOUR SCHOOLBOOKS DIDN’T TELL YOU ABOUT THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR

TWO MISERABLE PRESIDENTS
By STEVE SHEINKIN
Illustrated by TIM ROBINSON

MAY 22, 1856: A MEMBER OF CONGRESS FROM SOUTH CAROLINA WALKS INTO THE SENATE CHAMBER, LOOKING FOR TROUBLE.

That congressman, Preston Brooks, was ready to attack Senator Charles Sumner of Massachusetts over remarks Sumner made slamming senators who supported slavery in Kansas. Brooks lifted his cane to beat Sumner, and here the action in the book stops, so that Steve Sheinkin can explain just where this confrontation started. In the process, he unravels the complicated string of events—the small things, the personal ones, the big issues—that led to the Civil War. It is a time and a war that threatened America’s very existence, revealed in the surprising true stories of the soldiers and statesmen who battled it out.

EVERYTHING YOUR SCHOOLBOOKS DIDN’T TELL YOU ABOUT THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

KING GEORGE: WHAT WAS HIS PROBLEM?
By STEVE SHEINKIN
Illustrated by TIM ROBINSON

KING GEORGE NEVER DID UNDERSTAND AMERICANS.

“Entire books have been written about the causes of the American Revolution. This isn’t one of them.” What it is, instead, is utterly interesting, anecdotes (John Hancock fixates on salmon), from the inside out (at the Battle of Eutaw Springs, hundreds of soldiers plunged into battle “naked as they were born”), close-up narrative filled with little-known details, lots of quotes that capture the spirit and voices of the principals (“If need be, I will raise one thousand men, subsist them at my own expense, and march myself at their head for the relief of Boston”—George Washington), and action. It’s the story of the birth of our nation, complete with soldiers, spies, salmon sandwiches, and real facts you can’t help but want to tell to everyone you know.

CHRISTO AND JEANNE-CLAUDE
THROUGH THE GATES AND BEYOND

By JAN GREENBERG and SANDRA JORDAN

CHRISTO AND JEANNE-CLAUDE UNWRAPPED.

In 1981 two artists—Christo and Jeanne-Claude—proposed an installation in New York’s Central Park that would span twenty-three miles. They received a 185-page response from the Parks Department that could have been summed up in one single word: “no.” But they persisted. This biography of contemporary artists Christo and Jeanne-Claude is a story of the power of collaboration, and vision, and of the creation of the spectacular Gates and other renowned artworks.

Written by the remarkable JAN GREENBERG and SANDRA JORDAN, two of America’s most prominent writers about art and artists for young readers, CHRISTO AND JEANNE-CLAUDE is an absolute inspiration. Jan Greenberg lives in St. Louis, Missouri. Sandra Jordan lives in New York, New York.

Other art-related books by Jan Greenberg and Sandra Jordan include ACTION JACKSON (a Sibert Honor Book), as well as books on Van Gogh, Frank O. Gehry, Andy Warhol, and Chuck Close.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE KID
THE EARLY YEARS OF BUSTER KEATON

Written and illustrated by CATHERINE BRIGHTON

FAMOUS AT FOUR!

Four-year-old Buster Keaton became one of the best-known comedians of his age and inches when his father threw him across a vaudeville stage, shouting “Keep your eye on the kid!” The crowd roared as he easily landed on his feet and instantly became a star. As Buster grew, he set his sights on the budding world of Hollywood and went on to become one of America’s most beloved silent-film stars. Airy, detailed illustrations evoke small-town USA in the early 20th century. Told in Buster’s voice, this captivating biography introduces young readers to a boy who became an American icon and changed the face of comedy and the film world forever.

CATHERINE BRIGHTON has written and illustrated many successful children’s books, most recently, FOSSIL GIRL: THE STORY OF MARY ANNING, which was named one of the Best Books of the Year by School Library Journal. Ms. Brighton lives in London, England.

Dear Reader:

For the past five years, Roaring Brook Press has been publishing award-winning nonfiction that inspires and excites. Books like Action Jackson and The Man Who Walked Between the Towers have helped establish Roaring Brook’s reputation—and perhaps, in some small way, begun to change the way that many people look at children’s nonfiction. Information books can be beautiful, engaging, and original. And good nonfiction has as much power as fiction to capture the imaginations of young readers.

It is with great pleasure, then, that we are introducing in this catalog the inaugural list of Roaring Brook’s new nonfiction imprint: Flash Point. In the seasons to come, we’ll be focusing on publishing nonfiction that speaks directly to children and teens—through strong narrative voices, irresistible topics, and innovative concepts. We want children to pick up these books on their own, because in an age where information, true and otherwise, is often too readily available, a good book can be irreplaceable. The more broadly children explore, the more exciting and inspiring information they can get their hands on, the closer they come to a flash point—the moment when knowledge suddenly, and brilliantly, sparks into comprehension.

We hope we’ll have many opportunities to provide that spark to our readers.

With best wishes,

Deirdre Langeland
